

The Royal Academy of Engineering

Do you want to become an engineering leader?

Do you want to fast-track your career?

If so, The Royal Academy of Engineering can help you.

The Engineering Leadership Scheme was devised by the Academy to assist undergraduate engineering students achieve their professional goals by realising their full career potential. We are creating the engineering leaders of tomorrow.

Our premier Advanced Awards are intended to give you a competitive advantage in the job market once you graduate. They are open to second year MEng undergraduates enrolled on four year degree courses, or third year undergraduates on five year courses.

Each award provides up to £5,000 over a period of three years to support training and development activities that complement a student's formal studies; these are underpinned by a bespoke personal development plan. In addition each awardee is assigned a mentor for the duration of their award.

If you are interested in being considered for one of our premier Advanced Awards, please visit: www.engineeringleadershipawards.org.uk

You will find further details of this exciting opportunity in addition to an on-line application facility. The deadline date for submitting your application is 16 December 2011.

All other enquires should be addressed to ela@raeng.org.uk

